THE FRESHMAN YEAR EXPERIENCE

A National Conference

To be hosted by the University of South Carolina and

The University 101 Program February 2 - 5, 1983 Columbia, S.C.

The freshman year is the foundation on which the rest of the college experience is based. This foundation requires and deserves more recognition and attention! Hence, the focus of this conference will be on the total freshman year experience and, specifically, the conference will:

- Present information on innovative programs and freshman year concepts that are helping freshmen make successful adjustments to higher education and to having a more successful freshman year.
- 2. Help participants determine and learn what are American and Canadian higher educational institutions doing on a campus-wide/coordinated basis to improve the freshman year.
- 3 Sook to answer the question, what kinds of

The following kinds of freshman year programs and topical areas will be examined in the conference presentations:

- Innovative, newly developed/adopted freshman year curricula and/or curricular modifications.
- Academic credit bearing freshman orientation courses/seminars. (how to initiate, develop, teach, and evaluate such courses; how to train faculty to teach orientation courses; how such courses enhance retention)
- Non-credit orientation courses.
- Innovative orientation programs.
- Special advisement programs/centers for freshman advisement.
- Special courses to introduce freshmen to particular professional disciplines.
- Special programs for high risk freshmen.
- 8. Special counseling programs to support fresh-
